REPORT ON WORLD BLOOD DONOR DAY

Date: 14th June 2022

Konark Ideal College of science and commerce arranged a slogan making competition on the World Blood Donor Day at Konark Ideal College science and commerce on 14th June 2022 under the banner of commerce association.

World Blood Donor Day is celebrated every year by people around the world on June 14. It is celebrated on the birthday anniversary of Karl Landsteiner on June 14, 1868. Landsteiner was awarded the Nobel Prize for his discovery of the ABO blood group system.

The day also provides an opportunity to call to action governments and national health authorities to provide adequate resources to increase the collection of blood from voluntary, unpaid blood donors and to manage access to blood and the transfusion of those who require it. To ensure that everyone who needs transfusion has access to safe blood, all countries need voluntary, unpaid blood donors who give blood regularly. An effective blood donor program, characterized by the broad and active participation of the population, is crucial in meeting the need for blood transfusion during peacetime as well as during emergencies or disasters when there is a surge in demand for blood or when the regular operation of blood services is affected.

Under the Guidance of Asst. Prof. Priya Singh. Students were participated in the competition. In the slogan making competition we showcase the importance of blood donation. Students also made amazing creativity and the event was successfully completed

REPORT ON CONDOLENCE MEETING

Date:16th Dec 2023

Konark Ideal College arranged a condolence meet, at Konark Ideal College on 16th Dec 2023. Under the banner of NSS

Palliative care improves the quality of life of patients and that of their families who are facing challenges associated with life-threatening illness, whether physical, psychological, social or spiritual. The quality of life of caregivers improves as well.

Each year, an estimated 56.8 million people, including 25.7 million in the last year of life, are in need of palliative care.

Worldwide, only about 14% of people who need palliative care currently receive it.

Unnecessarily restrictive regulations for morphine and other essential controlled palliative medicines deny access to adequate palliative care.

Adequate national policies, programmes, resources, and training on palliative care among health professionals are urgently needed in order to improve access.

The global need for palliative care will continue to grow as a result of the ageing of populations and the rising burden of non-communicable diseases and some communicable diseases.

Early delivery of palliative care reduces unnecessary hospital admissions and the use of health services.

Palliative care involves a range of services delivered by a range of professionals that all have equally important roles to play – including physicians, nursing, support workers, paramedics, pharmacists, physiotherapists and volunteers — in support of the patient and their family.

REPORT ON HOLI CELEBRATION

DATE: 6th march 2023

The most colourful and vibrant festival of India – Holi was celebrated with splash of colours at Konark Ideal College of Commerce and Science. The atmosphere on 6th march 2023 was marked with fun and fervour as students celebrated this vibrant festival. The college following the green and global practices had arranged for safe organic herbal Holi colours. The academic courtyard was an amalgamation of enthused students who also sprinkled colours on teachers. Holi is the festival which commemorates the victory of good over evil, brought about by the burning and destruction of the evil demon named Holika. So the spirit of Holi taught the students to follow good conduct in life and believe in the virtue of being truthful and honest. The festival marks the end of winter and the abundance of the upcoming spring harvest season. The Principal, stated that Holi is a festival of new hope, new beginning and new opportunity. He reiterated to forget, forgive and start afresh and advised the students to play only with organic colours. The students welcomed spring, season of hope with songs, dance and bright colours which were the major highlights of this vivid and lively festival. These bright colours are believed to signify energy, life and joy.

Holi is the unique and colourful celebration of many myths, legends and deities associated with it. It has many interesting facts and figures which is important for the people to know. The festival of colours is very significant for our lives and body in various other ways than providing fun and the joy. Keeping this in mind, celebrated this event with students, staff and other team members. It incorporated so much fun on the University Campus. This festival was celebrated as it can keep the traditions and the culture of the festival alive. The festival has given lots of enjoyment and excitement to the college authorities and students. The event started with special dance performances based on certain themes.

IDEAL NATURE CLUB

REPORT ON NO VEHICLE DAY

2021-22

Automobile impact on environment is about 80-90% according to environment defence fund one third air & sound pollution cause is all transportation causes 27% green house gas emission. The gases emit hazardous poison in air. To aware about this problem student the college started to organise NO VEHICLE DAY at least one of the teaching day among the total teaching days.

So, Ideal Nature Club members and NSS VOULENTEERS decide to provide wide awareness by going to each classroom and insisting not to use personal vehicle for one day and to prefer public transport. According to this all faculty, teaching staff, non-teaching staff, & everyone who related to college not to use any two-wheeler or four wheeler vehicle to come & moving for college and only use public vehicle for one day.

This effort made by volunteers and members brought a good result on 26th Oct, 2021 , maximum all the teaching, non –teaching and majorly our students followed the applicable rule of not bringing personal vehicle was successful. Thus College made a small effort to reduce the Pollution and create awareness of NO VEHICLE DAY.

B.M.S.

BMS (Bachelor of Management Studies) is a course that can be undertaken at an undergraduate level for a promising career in the field of management. This is a 3-year duration course that can be completed at a college or through distance learning. BMS is fast gaining popularity as many students are looking at other professional courses over the usual science, arts, and commerce.

Another reason for the BMS courses popularity is that it is a good course for starting a career. It is a professional course that has a lot of value in the professional world and BMS degree holders find good jobs right after college. The degree gives you an opportunity to pursue a career in the industry of your choice. These jobs are in management and administration, so the start pay is better than other bachelor degree holders. The BMS degree is definitely a good career options

What Is The Need Of Pursuing A BMS Degree?

Today, the corporate world is buzzing with cut-throat competition and anyone who has no niche skills is not deemed suitable for the job. This competition calls for professionally qualified graduates in the management sector who can take up the tasks and responsibilities of administrative jobs.

The BMS degree is essential to make students learn the fundamentals of management at the graduation level itself. This way, the students will not only be prepared well for jobs but they will also be able to take specialised masters courses with better understanding.

What Are The Scope And The Benefits Of Studying BMS?

The first and foremost advantage of undertaking a BMS degree is that the students are exposed to the basics of the corporate culture. They are taught to analyse and understand the root cause of any crisis and to strategically solve the issue by making use of the available infrastructure.

The students are also made to understand the importance of organizational hierarchy, teamwork, target-oriented attitude, leadership, problem-solving skills, and promptness in work in the BMS course. This makes them highly compatible with the corporate world.

Here Are Top 5 Benefits Of The BMS Course:

1. Versatility –

In a BMS course, students are taught to be versatile. They learn about everything involved in running a company and are given a deep understanding of all departments.

2. An Alternative To BBA –

The BMS course is a great alternative to the Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) degree. The education and opportunities of both degrees are the same.

3. Professional Course –

BMS is considered to be a professional course that has a lot of importance and standing on its own. Students can start working immediately after the course.

4. Better Salaries –

Since this degree will get you a job on the management side of an organisation, you can expect a good starting salary. During the course, you will also be taught how to negotiate for a better salary.

5. Further Studies –

With a BMS degree, you can easily get admission into a good MBA course. Plus, BMS degree holders will do a lot better in an MBA than students from other streams.

Job Opportunities After BMS In India

By graduating in management studies from a reputed institute, you can develop a career in the following fields:

Here Are Top 9 Career & Job Opportunities after BMS Course:

1. Administration And Operations

In this field, you will have to look into the administration of a company and its daily operations. You have to ensure that everything is in smooth running order, and also have to look for ways to improve on current administrative and operational capabilities. This is an important management position, and you will be reporting to senior management. You will be responsible for many of the employees, and ensure everyone's departments are performing at their optimal best.

2. Project Management (Executive Level)

Executive-level projects are the backbone of any organisation. These projects are at this level because they are important for the organizations business. A lot is riding on such projects. You, as a part of the project management, have to ensure the projects are completed on time successfully. You have to manage everyone involved as a team, and be a good leader. You also have to prepare reports regarding the project for review by senior management.

3. Enterprise Management

When a company has large-scale operations with employees in the thousands and revenue is millions, then that company is an enterprise. Managing the day-to-day functionalities of an enterprise through ERP (Enterprise Resource Planning) is the main task in enterprise management.

4. Human Resource Management And Development

The HR department is one of the most important departments in an organisation. As an HR, your role would be to ensure that you hire talented employees for the company, and ensure all the existing employees are happy. You also have to solve any professional grievances of the employees and have to be the communication bridge between the employees and the higher management. This is quite a responsible department as they ensure the whole company is working smoothly.

5. Customer Management

One of the most difficult yet important departments to work in is the customer management department. As someone in a managerial position, your main job would be to help get new customers, keep the existing customers happy, and keep the people working in the department happy and working as a team. Customer retention is so important because most of the business comes from existing customers. Therefore, this is one of the main roles of management in the customer management department.

6. Data Management And Systems Analysis

Positions in this department require you to have technical knowledge as well. Data management is the next big thing, and you need to be adept at using multiple software and methods for data collection, storage, management, and analysis. You should know if the current data management systems are enough or if there is a need to upgrade or overhaul. You also need to be able to understand the data and prepare reports based on that data. Your reports provide management insight to make important decisions.

7. Sales And Marketing

Most of the profits are brought in by the sales and marketing departments. As a manager in sales, you will have to manage the people, ensure they are motivated and keep increasing their sales numbers. In the marketing department, you will have to manage the employees, create brand awareness by rightly marketing the product and services, and create marketing strategies that will help increase sales.

8. Financial Management

In financial management, there are many different kinds of roles and responsibilities. You can be a part of the accounting and finance department of a company and manage the money. In some companies, the finance department is about investing and trading in assets. You can become an advisor and advise on investment to the customers of your company. You can also be an independent financial advisor and earn a lot of money.

9. Communications Management

In a company, there is internal and external communication. This is mostly managed by the communications department. In this department, you will have to manage the outgoing communication that happens to customers, associates, partner companies, and general public. It also applies to communication regarding our products and services. Regarding internal communication, this department has to manage inter-departmental communication, employee communication, and communication between staff and management.

Salary Scale For BMS Course

As mentioned before, BMS is a professional management course that will get you into the management of an organisation. Therefore, you can expect a good salary throughout your career, along with benefits, and opportunities to grow.

The starting salary may not be high, but with time and experience, it will grow to a respectable number. Currently, the scale for BMS graduates is INR 3 lakhs to 8 lakhs. Of course, this is subject to the industry and company you find work in.

After BMS Which Course Is Better?

Many students like to study further after graduation. This further increases their knowledge and employability. Students with master's and postgraduate degrees and diplomas get better career opportunities. You can choose to continue with the specialization you chose in BMS, or even change and pursue something else altogether.

There are many courses that one can pursue after a BMS. These courses are courses where you can utilise your knowledge and education gained in a BMS.

1. MBA –

This is the obvious choice after BMS. Many students choose to do an MBA in the specialisation subject they had chosen in BMS.

2. MMS

– Masters in Management Studies is the next step after BMS. You delve deeper into the world of management and emerge a professional. This is a good alternative to an MBA.

3. PGDM

– A PGDM is just like an MBA. Some companies even prefer PGDM holders over other postgraduate degree holders. In PGDM, you also get the opportunity to do dual specialisations.

4.MCA

– The Master of Computer Application is an excellent course after BMS. However, you should be good at computer programming and languages.

BAMMC

The BAMMC Course was introduced by the University of Mumbai after revamping the popular course Bachelor of Mass Media or BMM. In this article, we will break down what exactly is the BAMMC course, what is the eligibility, what modules you will learn and how will this course benefit you in your career.

BAMMC full form is Bachelor of Arts in Multimedia and Mass Communication. It is one of the most sought-after courses in Mass Media after you complete your 12th standard. It is a 3-year degree course that teaches you various mediums of communication such as print media, television or broadcast media, radio and internet, however, it goes a step further and trains you in advertising & concepts of public relations as well. In today's scenario, media stands as an attractive career option to the Indian youth, and a degree in BAMMC offers a wide range of job opportunities to candidates. It teaches students all the technical skills required to be successful in the field of media. This course also trains you in other essential skills such as research, presentation as well as written and verbal communication skills. Unlike the complex streams of engineering and medical, one does not need to have a set formula to succeed in the field of mass communication.
